1. I received a letter dated 6 October from Mr. Harvey Picker of the Council on Foreign Relations in New York which invited me to be a member of a current issue review group on Current Developments on China. The group will meet at the Council in New York three or four times this fall and winter with the first meeting scheduled for 22 November. Participants will include such stalwarts as Alan Whiting of the University of Michigan and William J. Barnds of the Council's staff.

2. I have accepted this invitation to participate as the subject matter and participants appear of interest. The panel intends to deal with the broad political, economic, military and foreign policy issues that will face the new leaders of China and other questions involving the future of China. STATINTL
